OUR TOWN

We congratulate John Cage, highway commissioner, on the able defense of his good name, notwithstanding the unfortunate occurrence the other day at Austin when he knocked down and left unconscious a well known newspaper correspondent in the lobby of a prominent hotel. Newspapers, two in particular, fighting the Ferguson administration, have attacked the highway commission and its personnel without regard to propriety or the truth and have sent their propagandists to shadow the commissioners and to distort if need be every honest and generous impulse of the government. While the administration of the highway department has not measured up to expectation of the people in every respect the propaganda of a prejudiced press has been unmerciful and so it is time public men stop this business of assassination even though it takes fists to do it. A whispered story given much credence is that John Bickett, former sheriff of Milam County, told the political fortune hunters that in their zeal to corrupt the public mind and distort the facts, they must respect his good name and character. There has been no attack on John Bickett, and we do not anticipate any. From this time on we suspect that the propagandists will respect more thoroughly the good name and repute of John Cage.

The necessity for manufacturing industries such as could be sustained by the territory must be apparent to all if we are to have a well developed and uniform commercial life. Dependence upon agriculture alone has proven over and over again that any community so situated may find relief for periods of depression by encouraging and building up a system of manufacture and of purely industrial enterprises where men labor and pay rolls are made. To such a task the commercial club should set its hand, being not unmindful of the dangers of overworking the demand, yet not too conservative in counting the cost. Support should attach to the proposal of S. M. Burns already concurred in by a number, that the commercial club should interpose its good offices to exempt from taxation all industries for 10 years seeking location and employing a stipulated number of men. How the taxes may be paid is secondary. What we need is the industry and to obtain it we can well afford to be financially responsible for the exemption.

A compliment to a declining art. The old fiddlers contest will bring one of the largest assemblies seen in recent years in Cameron, is the belief of those in charge of arrangements. Already some 20 old fiddlers have signed up for the contest and will be ready with their program of old music. To heighten interest in the contest, a jig dancing feature has been added. Men over fifty will dance. We trust the contest will mean the congregation of many not only as a complement to the old fiddlers but for the sake of tradition—the lean years they span in which the decadence has brought the crashing cymbals of jazz to stifle the law of melody.

More than 150 farmers have entered the "more cotton on fewer acres" contest. This is a fine complement to the enterprise of the commercial club, to Cameron newspapers and interested workers. While the number indicates a widespread enthusiasm for better methods of cotton production, a real problem is presented in working out the practical details of contest management. The club should at once fix by survey all plots entered and prepare for the active supervision when the crop is maturing and during harvest period. The idea expressed in the contest plans, to produce more cotton on fewer acres, will inevitably lead to the development of agriculture along the lines of variety crops. The contest has the active support of the mercantile and financial interests. The crop diversification plan will lead to independence on the farms, will swell community wealth and give practical expression to better civic and social ideals in the rural sections.

Mrs. Leo Wilkerson was called to San Gabriel to the bedside of her grandmother, who has been spending the winter with Mr. Phelps.

In the rear of the building will be as well as general garage work making the plant complete in every detail. The construction of this building is hailed as a great advance in the building of a larger mercantile area and not only gives to the Cameron Chevrolet Company a much needed expansion for its business but denotes prosperity and an era of expansion in local automotive sales industry.

The Chevrolet Company is being congratulated on this expansion, a need in which has existed for some time and sought by G. C. White who managed the business and who is now directing the sales of the company.

HEAVY DOWNPOUR HERE INSURES ALL CROPS

PRECIPITATION HEAVY OVER COUNTY HAS GOOD CROPS ASSURED

Rain that began falling late Tuesday afternoon continued throughout the night increasing in intensity until the precipitation reached a down pour.

This downpour continued through the night, one of the hardest rainfalls in recent years. Already near two inches had fallen in slow precipitation several days previous and this added rainfall will insure season for crops.

The rain has fixed faith in the agricultural outlook and increased business is looked forward to as well as a good yield of cotton, corn and all feed stuff.

The total rainfall here within the last week has been 3.42 inches.

STYLE SHOW WILL BE A NOTABLE EXHIBITION

CHRISTIAN CHURCH WOMEN TO PROMOTE HOME TALENT ENTERTAINMENT

The style show advertised in this issue for March 23 will be as the ad indicates, something different.

Mrs. A. B. Guinn who was formerly with the Wayne P. Sewell Lyceum and Play Producing Company of Atlanta, Georgia, is in charge of the program. She promises an entertainment of merit and good stage scenery with musical numbers.

Practically every merchant and business firm in Cameron have entered the show for exhibits. The Builders Class of the Christian church will get the proceeds. The money will be used for the new church and the entertainment should and will no doubt be widely patronized. It will be held at the Yoe High School auditorium.

Ashes of John E. Lee To Repose In Family Tomb at Warsaw, Poland; Body Exumed And Is Cremated

An urn holding the funeral ashes of John A. Lee who died here on February 16 will be sent to Warsaw, Poland, and there placed in the family tomb to bide the centuries.

The body, exhumed at the plot in Oak Hill Cemetery, was taken to San Antonio by Chas. W. Price, undertaker, and cremated at Mission Burial Park crematorium.

The ashes weighing five and a half pounds are now at the home of Mr. Price in the funeral urn in which they will shortly be sent to California to Mrs. John A. Lee who is to proceed to that state in a few days from Temple. From California she will take the urn containing the ashes to Poland, the land of birth, and in Warsaw where the family tomb and that of others have been for centuries will seal away for time all that remains mortal of her husband.

Mr. Lee died here following a long illness from pneumonia. He had been in Milam County for more than three years, being identified with development in the local oil fields. In his career he became an engineer early in

What a Library Does For a Town

1. Completes its educational equipment, carrying on and giving permanent value to the work of the schools.
2. Gives the children of all classes a chance to know and love the best in literature. Without the public library such a chance is limited to the very few.

3. Minimize the sale and reading of vicious literature in the community, thus promoting mental and moral health.

4. Effects a great saving in money to every reader in the community.

The library is the application of common sense to the problem of supply and demand. Through it every reader in the town can secure at a given cost from 100 to 1000 times the material for reading or study that he could secure by acting individually.

5. Appealing to all classes, sects and degrees of intelligence, it is a strong unifying factor in the life of a town.

6. The library is the one thing in which every town, however poor or isolated, can have something as good and inspiring as the greatest city can offer. Neither Boston nor New York can provide better books to its readers than the humblest town library can easily own and supply.

7. Slowly but inevitably raises the intellectual tone of a place.

8. Adds to the material value of property. Real estate agents in the suburbs of large cities never fail to advertise the presence of a library, if there be one, as giving added value to the lots or houses they have for sale.

BELIEVE BLACK INSANE WHO SLASHES NEGRO

WOULD BE SLAYER IS EPILEPTIC AND SEARCH IS UNDER WAY

Sheriff Blaylock and deputies are searching for M. C. McGowan, young negro who is wanted for attempt to murder Sam Sanders and his wife near Milano Monday night in which an axe taken from a neighboring farm yard was used.

The negro entered the house thru a window. A glancing lick with the axe struck Sanders on the head and hit his wife as they lay sleeping at night. McGowan, it is said told others negroes that he had quarreled with Sanders and wife with who he had been living.

McGowan was arrested three weeks ago and detained in jail by the sheriff. He is an epileptic and is thought to be deranged.

The negro woman, the wife of Sanders, is severely cut on the left shoulder and left breast. The sheriff believes the wounds were inflicted with a knife although a two bladed sharp axe was found near the scene of the crime. The woman will recover.

Three arrested three weeks ago the negro carried a Luger automatic. He had several fits in jail and is now at large. Some fear is felt that he may have fled into the woods and died from exposure.

MILAM BONDS AFFECTED BY ARCHER CO RULING

ROCKDALE AND THORNDALE ISSUES MAY NOT BE SALABLE UNDER COURT DECREE

A new angle to the bond situation in Texas and especially Milam County has developed with the opinion given by Judge J. T. Sluder of San Antonio whose authority on securities of this kind has been recognized as sound for years.

Judge Sluder, according to Judge Jeff T. Kemp, holds that the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Archer County case, holding that bonds voted in districts created by commissioner's courts where property owners show due value not received for expenditure of money, affects only those issues of bonds that are unsold. Where bonds have been sold and the money expended, many of them retired by process of taxation, the decision, according to Judge Sluder does not apply.

In Milam County there is close to bond record of the county, some having been retired.

The only issues affected, according to Judge Sluder, will be the unsold issues at Rockdale and Thorndale.

Opinion of other able lawyers, one of whom is W. A. Morrison of Cameron, who recently commented upon the decision of the court, as meeting in all particulars his conception of the law, will differ somewhat, it is thought, with the opinion of Judge Sluder. However in the absence of expressed opinion from them no intent is entertained here to commit them.

It is pointed out by Judge Kemp that no bonds in Milam County are voted from any save districts created by the commissioners. The court here recently passed a resolution pledging payment of all bonded debts regardless of the supreme court decision.

Miss Bess Dunham is recovering from a severe attack of flu.

THE BANKER-EDUCATOR PLAN TO PROMOTE BETTER AGRICULTURE

By D. H. OTIS,

Agricultural Director, American Bankers Association

D. H. Otis

Whenever bankers desire to promote actively agricultural improvement in their communities, the state agricultural colleges stand ready to show them the way and to give expert assistance. The purpose of this article is to illustrate the way in which the colleges are getting in contact with the banks, and the kind of assistance they render.

As soon as the college has a list of the banks in the state desiring to adopt plans to aid agriculture as indicated by project blanks sent out to all the banks in the state, by the State Bankers Association Agricultural Committee, it gives practical suggestions to each banker on the list as to what he can do to stimulate, organize, and conduct the work in the particular project he has selected. Then either a department specialist from the college or the county agent gets in personal touch with the banker to assist him in an advisory capacity.

Samples of the project outlines are given below to illustrate the details of the procedure the college takes in accomplishing its plan.

College Provides Expert Advisers

In counties with no county agent a list of the banks desiring to carry on a project is sent to a specialist at the state college, according to the project listed. For instance, the banks desiring to carry on the farm accounts project are assigned to the farm management specialist, those desiring to carry on the legume project to the agronomy specialist, those interested in boys' and girls' club work to the junior extension specialist, and so forth.

In counties that do have a county agent a list of the banks and the projects in which each is interested is sent to him with a request that he get in touch with the bankers and help them in regard to the various projects. The next step by the college is to write to each banker on the list sending him project outlines and informing him that the county agent or a specialist from the college will get in touch with him. If there is no agent in the county this letter reads as follows:

Union State Bank,
Bankville.
Gentlemen—You will find enclosed a brief outline of the farm accounts project in which you have indicated your interest to your State Agricultural Committee and to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. I am sure that the specialist from the agricultural college will be pleased to assist you in carrying out the suggestions indicated. We have asked him to get in touch with you.

Director, Agricultural Extension.
The letter to bankers in counties that do have a county agent informs them that he will get in touch with them.

Suggests Things the Banker Can Do
The project outlines sent to each banker give specific suggestions as to the things he can do to organize the work in his project, and the part he can take in carrying out the work. The more simple and concrete these suggestions are the more valuable they are to the banker. Following are samples of such project outlines:

Farm Accounts Project

1. Banker can select group of farmers who can and should undertake the work of farm accounts.
2. Arrange with county agent or specialist from agricultural college for first meeting of the group and select an account book.
3. Assist individuals at their request with information relative to entering accounts and other data properly.
4. Act as or select leader for the group.
5. Assist in checking inventories as a means of securing individual financial statement at close of the year.

Boys' and Girls' Club Work

1. The banker can arrange with the county agent or the specialist of the agricultural college for organizing a club.
2. Plan to present various types of club work at the next meeting and perfect the organization of a local club.
3. Banker may act as local leader of the club.
4. Cooperate with county agent or specialist in annual "Achievement Day."
5. Banker may offer prizes for club work or otherwise assist in financing same.

Legume Project

1. The banker can get information from county agent or specialist from the agricultural college on the value of alfalfa, soy bean, or sweet clover crops to farmers of the community.
2. Arrange for meeting of interested farmers with county agent or specialist.
3. At this meeting county agents, specialists, or others will discuss:
 - (a) Value of crop.
 - (b) Seed supply and varieties.
 - (c) Methods of handling the crop.
 - (d) Use and disposition of crop.
4. Plan with county agent or specialist meetings and demonstrations on plots or fields.
5. Secure exhibits for community or county fair.

Cow Testing Associations

1. The banker can arrange with county agent or specialist from agricultural college for meeting of interested group of farmers in the community for the purpose of organizing a cow testing association.
2. Banker may act as leader, and with county agent or specialist plan to visit prospective farmers who may join the association.
3. Organize for work and assist in securing testing equipment and other materials whenever necessary.
4. Call meetings periodically to discuss association business and hold picnics or tours.
5. Banker with county agent or specialist may arrange for C. T. A. booth at community or county fair giving testing demonstrations and explaining work of association.

This constitutes the preliminary work by the college which paves the way for constructive work by the bankers in banker-farmer projects.

Former Candidate Is Heir To Million In Mexican Republic

Harry P. Jordan who was a candidate for the state senate against Edgar Witt of Waco in the primaries of 1924 has inherited a million from an aunt who died in Mexico City. The following from the Waco-Herald will be of interest to the friends of Mr. Jordan in Cameron:

An estate valued it is said at between $750,000 and $1,000,000, is bequeathed to Harry P. Jordan of Waco and his sister, Mrs. Pat C. Byrne of Duncan, Oklahoma, as a result of the death recently of their aunt in Mexico City, Mrs. Otelia Degollado. Mrs. Jordan is the executor of the estate, and he will leave shortly for Mexico City, to give attention to legal matters in connection with the properties that have been willed to him and his sister.

Mrs. Degollado was one of the richest women in Mexico City. She was the widow of the late Gen. Mariano Degollado, who was minister to the United States when Maximilian was emperor. He was governor at one time of the state of Guadalajara. Mrs. Degollado, the last of the Maximilian retinue, was chief lady in waiting to Maximilian's consort, the Empress Carlotta, who was exiled when the Maximilian regime was overthrown, and who has been in France for many years, since she was forced to flee from her native country.

The estate of Mrs. Degollado consists, in the main, of valuable mining properties, in addition to extensive realty holdings. She was the principle holder in the famous Cardonia gold mine, which is located in the state of Oaxaca, and from the depths of which fabulous sums have been extracted. Her home was one of the most palatial in Mexico City.

Misses Maggie Reed McCown and Inez Evans spent the past week end in Holland with relatives.

Mrs. N. Y. Hayes left Wednesday morning for Lamesa, Texas to visit Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hays and family.

Western Union to Take Telegraphy To Old Mexico

"Subject to approval President Calles, the Boards of Western Union and Mexican companies, a contract has been concluded with the Mexican government for introduction into Mexico of modern telegraphy service, including extension of international traffic of night letter, night message, and money transfer service. The Western Union in conjunction with the Mexican telegraph company thus brings Mexico City as close to New York telegraphically as Chicago or Boston. Regular traffic to be adjusted based upon zones and distance. Night press rate two cents per word. This direct service to Mexico will be extended to sister republics south thru all America cable. Direct operation Mexico City to New York made possible by single control, giving almost direct service to Cuba and also to Spain via New York Azores cable. Commendation due Eduardo Ortiz, acting secretary department of communications and A. G. Montero, director general national telegraphs for their understanding and appreciation of this new bond between Mexico and the United States and what it will mean in the advance of education and business. This opening of the gateway to Mexico and Republics South means the end of the monopolistic handling of the communications systems in Mexico and will hereafter open the way to the Western Union, the Postal and all other American communication systems."

A FORTUNE IN HOGS FOR FARMERS

The production of hogs is now low, and the price is high and will probably be higher.

Texas especially is badly in need of hogs. Every year our state pays out in actual cash $30,000,000 for pork, which ought to be raised at home at a profit to our farmers.

You can make a big profit out of raising hogs this year. Act now.

WOMANLY AILS

Kentucky Lady Got Well After Taking Cardui.

"I got down in health—suffering from womanly troubles which caused me much pain and worry," says Mrs. Rhoda Canary, of R. F. D. 6, Owensboro, Ky.

"My stepmother had taken Cardui when she was in my same condition, so I got to inquiring around among my friends about it and found several women who were taking it at that time.

"They all told me how good it was, so I told my husband to get me a bottle to try. That night he came home with a bottle of Cardui.

"I had a . . . which left me in a very serious condition. I had been in bed eight weeks and was unable to move in bed without help.

"By the time I had taken half a bottle (of Cardui), my strength began to come back. I could sit up in bed.

"I finished up that bottle and by that time I was able to walk across the floor. I continued taking Cardui for several months and I got well."

RAISE MORE HOGS

There is really an important campaign on in Texas for the production of more hogs. Statistics show that this state only produces about a million and a quarter hogs each year; but, during the same period of time, the people of Texas eat over five million. This makes it necessary for the state to import over two million pounds of dressed pork, which could just as easily be raised at home.

Texans send out of the state every year over twenty five million dollars for pork, and twenty-five million dollars kept at home can do a lot of good.

Five million hogs can be raised and used for food in Texas before any are shipped out, and it is possible for as many as five million more to be handled by Texas packing houses and exported to other states.

Hog raising does not have the problems that it once had. Preventives for cholera and other diseases are to be obtained easily and county agents are always ready to assist in any way they can.

Once the idea is sold to the farmers, the biggest problem of the campaign is over.

TEXAS HIGHWAYS

It was not so many years ago that it was almost impossible for travelers to be sure of the roads over which they were compelled to go in Texas. Detours and round about trips were often necessary, especially in the winter.

Now conditions are very much improved and before very long it is to be hoped that any part of the state can be reached at any time and in any kind of weather.

Texas has better highways than most of the other states of the south. The two longest ones which reach across the entire state are open for travel all parts of the year, and there are few highways in the country which can show such a record for as long a distance.

The automobile, of course, is the cause of the improvement in the roads; and with motor efficiency becoming greater all the time, the highways must keep pace with the progress made.

Highways have become vital factors in the commercial life of the world; and the section of the country which has good roads to boast of, has taken a substantial step in the not only right but also essential direction.

COMPREHENDING THE FOREIGNERS

Much has been said for a number of years about Americanizing the foreigners. We have been shown what a dangerous thing it is to allow a mass of people to come up in our country who can not speak English, and whose co-operation can not be readily secured for industrial and political progress.

But when we start in to do this work of Americanization, we do not always have a clear idea of how to go about it. In some schools they give grown up men and women of foreign races little primary school books suited to native children about six years old. The minds of these foreigners are mature, and they resent being treated as infants.

A Greek who is studying at the normal school at Keene, New Hampshire, recently gave an address with suggestions for education for citizenship. He urged that the attempt be made to understand the viewpoint of the immigrant, that teachers of the same nationality as the immigrant should be selected to instruct him, that lectures be given by leaders of the various races who have been Americanized, etc.

Much more progress would be made on Americanization, if measures of this kind were taken. Many of the immigrants are intelligent people, and they must be treated as adults who desire to learn a new language, not as children who need elementary instruction.

It would make a big difference if we could make real progress in this work of Americanization. The industries could secure better co-operation from their workpeople, there would be less friction in industry, and the danger of radical upheavals would be diminished.

THE ESSENTIAL GARDEN

It would help much in the development of Cameron or any ambitious town, if the idea could be disseminated that every home place ought to be beautified by some effort at gardening. We should look at a home without this form of improvement, as too severely plain. It looks like a woman who never attempted to have any pretty clothing, but merely wore the most severe and unadorned garments that she could make from the plainest and dullest material.

Thus the garden or the bed of shrubbery should be regarded not as a kind of superfluity which is nice to have but not necessary, but as an essential element in the completeness of a home.

Almost every home place has a little land around it that can be beautified. It that land stands idle and nothing is done with it, it is an element of waste. There is an opportunity to make the home seem attractive and homelike, but that opportunity is not used.

There are some people so beauty loving that their homes blossom wherever they are. If their home merely has the tiniest city back yard, they have some flowering plants there. If there is no back or front yard, then they probably have window boxes of plants that create a festive note.

There are some communities where gardening has thus become an almost universal custom, and where people would as soon think of having an undecorated home, as having one with paint all worn off. Places with that character become noted for a long distance, and people remember them and say they wish they had homes there. The silent influence of that beauty does more to promote the development of those towns, than half a hundred town boosters emphatically shouting all the time, but not turning their hands to do any real work.

BUSINESS FEARS

The business progress of the country suffers from two tendencies. First, there is exaggerated confidence, and second, there are exaggerated fears. It is difficult to tell which is the worse or leads to the more trouble. Exaggerated confidence leads people to borrow too much money, stock up too heavily on goods, and creates an inflated bubble that is sure to burst and cause more or less ruin.

Yet there are many business men who carry these fears of depression so far that they have no courage for development and expansion. It is well to bear in mind, that even if there are periods of slow business, they always end after a little. Back in 1921, the business world was engulfed in blues. Merchants were countermanding orders and banks were calling in loans and it seemed as if business would not for years be good again. But by the next year there was distinct improvement, and by 1923 trade was humming.

The business concern that formulates a reasonable program of investment and expansion, and does not borrow enough money to make its situation topheavy and over extended, can go ahead with confidence, feeling that the gradual growth of wealth and business and prosperity is going to warrant its enterprises.

Some people are so fearful, that they do not dare to spend anything to build up good will or enlarge their business. A business must grow to keep up with the times, for there is a constant tendency of trade to expand, and the tendency is for trade to drift into large units and to be done on a bigger scale. The more aggressive firms are drawing more and more trade by their policy of advertising and salesmanship, confident that the general advance in the buying power of the people will justify such enterprise.

HE WANTS LESS COTTON

Clarence Ousley of Fort Worth has been named to head a campaign to bring about a reduction in cotton acreage in the South for 1926. This is at last a move in the right direction.

In addition to this, an interstate association is to be formed to carry out the purposes of the movement, namely, "to restrict production of the staple within the legitimate needs of consumption and to increase food and feed crops to make the cotton farms of the South self-sustaining."

Too many farmers of the South have long gone under the impression that it is their duty to plant all the cotton possible and have left someone else to produce other products which are just as essential. This erroneous impression among too large a number of farmers has, in years past, caused too large a crop of the staple; and, as a result, the price has of course been lower than it otherwise would have been.

It will be the best thing for Texas and the South to get behind this meritorious movement, for it means, if it succeeds, that the farmer will be much better off.

USING THE PAINT BRUSH

People have become so accustomed to hiring jobs done about their home places, that the majority are helpless in a practical way now. Their first thought when anything is wrong is to telephone someone to come and do the work. The expense involved makes many of them delay needed improvements.

If householders would get acquainted with the paintbrush, they could save some money and keep their home places in better shape. Now is an excellent time to paint those porch chairs. Also that porch railing might look better and remove the possibly shabby appearance of your house, with a touch of fresh paint.

Formerly the kids used to think it was great fun to have little painting sets for coloring pictures. The good householder finds it equally good fun to touch up those spots about his place which are growing shabby.

COMPULSORY METRIC SYSTEM

Houston Chronicle

The American people are a queer lot. Touch them on their pet corns and you may expect to extract a howl that will not only make the welkin ring, but will jar the very foundation of things. But tickle them with an adroitly wielded feather and it will astonish you what may be accomplished.

At this particular time the congress is seriously, very seriously, in fact, considering enacting into law what is known as the Britten bill. The committee of coinage, weights and measures already has favorably reported this bill to the house. Further, the congress is largely pro-metric, and unless someone raises a howl, loud, long and lusty, we are apt to have such a measure enacted into law. Once the bill is enacted and finally becomes a law, the American, who so loves to emulate the habit which is popularly supposed to be the pet defense of the genial ostrich, will find himself in a mess that will help whiten his locks in jig time. For the bill, if enacted as reported, will enforce the use of the metric system in this country, with all of its appalling cost in treasure and time necessary to study its uses.

In addition to the pro-metric majority in the house, there is no questioning the fact that the metric system is thoroughly sound. Theoretically, it is more simple than our present system. But, what of the confusion into which the adoption of the metric system will plunge the country and what will it cost? To begin at the beginning Americans will first have to learn enough of the system to be able to visualize. We have some idea what a fluid ounce means, and a peck of potatoes or a pound of sugar gives us something which we may mentally measure close enough for common everyday use. But when we are compelled by law to think in metric terms we will get down into the depths where we will have to take a long time off to learn what it is all about.

As described by the dictionary, in terms which ordinary folks may comprehend, the metric system is a decimal system of weights and measures, originated in France and now in general use. The basis is the meter, which was designed to be, and is, very nearly one-millionth of the distance on a meridian from the equator to the pole, or about 39.37 inches. Upon the meter are based the other primary units, the square meter, the cubic meter or stere, the are, which expresses 100 square meters; the liter, the volume of a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a meter, and so forth and so on, which will render absolutely useless all and every idea and conception of measurement of whatever kind and sort men may work in or dabble with the moment the Britten bill is enacted into law. Every school book will become obsolete, and to replace them will cost untold millions. Every mile post and time table will have to be scrapped, every jig, pattern gauge and screw die used in every manufacturing plant in the United States will have to be replaced and the scale in the grocery store, the yardstick in the dry goods store and even the books and the newspapers will have to be written in a strange language, utterly unknown to the vast multitude, which knows nothing whatsoever about the metric system and what it means.

It seems too utterly silly to assume we are about to junk our whole thought as to measurement of distance or weights, solids or fluids. How much it would cost in money and how many lifetimes would be required to reform our capacity to visualize what the new terms mean is appalling.

That is just exactly what we are up against, and the chances of the Britten bill becoming the law of the land is more than bright. Yet there is not one out of a hundred thousand who knows that such legislation is threatening. Those who teach mathematics and those who require the use of terms and scales are almost a unit in favor of the metric system. It may be better than the system we use. No doubt it is. But when you come to compute the appalling cost of putting it into force and practice, it seems strange that the average man or woman evinces not the slightest interest in this matter, and very likely knows nothing whatever about it.

Enacted into law, your scales will have to be scrapped, your milk bottle will all be wrong, your pint cup worse than useless, and even the cook will have no sort of conception of how to make a biscuit or buy a beefsteak until she swears considerable blood in order to be able to visualize what it is all about.

And yet no one seems interested. By and large, the people do not even know the metric system is on the way when it is almost here.

Mr. Howard Redfield has returned from Dallas where he has secured a contract for Duco finishes for the Cameron territory. Mr. Redfield was called to Dallas to take intensive training at the Dallas Automobile Duco Paint Shop. To demonstrate his thorough understanding of Duco finishing with improved spraying machinery, he refinished a large Buick Coack while in Dallas. He was graded perfect in his work and was given a contract for this trade territory for Duco finishing. Duco products are sprayed on with improved machinery and Mr. Redfield secured the model outfit for inside and outside work. The Adolphus Hotel has recently let a contract for refinishing with Duco all furniture in that great hostelry. Mr. Redfield has removed to a shop opposite Werner's Dry Goods Store near the Santa Fe station.

LITTLE GILES ELVIS WETHERS

Little Giles Wethers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harve Wethers passed to his Heavenly home Tuesday night, March 2 at 10 o'clock, after being confined to his bed for the past three months.

Little Giles was an Angel here on earth being an invalid since he was six months old. He was twelve and a half years of age when he died.

While many are grieved at his passing, it is a comfort to know that God doth all things well.

Giles Wethers was laid to rest in the Pebble Grove Cemetery March 3 at 3 o'clock. Rev. C. L. Boone of Cameron conducted the funeral service. Little Giles was loved by all who knew him. He was always pleased in all things, although his best pleasures were from God, the beautiful sunshine, moonlight and water.

Now he is no more an invalid, but is happy in his Heavenly home, where there are no griefs and suffering.

First Ship Load Of Nitrate Reaches A Texas Port Houston

B. T. Harris, local agent for the Southern Pacific lines has been informed of the first ship load of nitrate to reach a Texas port.

The arrival Monday, March 1st, of the British steamer, Eastern City, loaded with nitrate of soda at Port Houston marked the beginning of an enormous tonnage of this essential fertilizer thru the port. Such a movement will make it possible for the farmers to receive their sodium nitrate distributed from a closer port than has been possible before. This fertilizer was one of the most important factors in the producing of 16 bales of 1-1-6 inch staple cotton on five acres of land by Mr. G. Mont Adams near Tyler, Smith county Texas. Never before have our farmers realized the importance of adding plant food to their soils in order to get the most out of them as they have since they have seen the results obtained in the Cotton Contests.

The Eastern City was chartered especially for this commodity which it brought direct from Chile thru the Panama Canal to Port Houston. This ship load is the fore-runner of a large tonnage of Sodium Nitrate to follow.

Bright Wings
of Romance

By RALPH D. PAINE

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

TIME had been very cruel to Harriet Brent. To some women the years come like an Indian summer. Harriet Brent lived alone in an old house, which also had come to have an aspect unlovely and forlorn. Four-square to the road it stood, its fields bounded by stone walls heaped together by the tenacious toll of New England pioneers.

A house that still braved the weather staunchly, it had sheltered many children and known many joys and sorrows. This its broad roof conveyed to the passer-by. For one elderly woman to dwell alone in it was like sitting by the dead ashes of a hearthstone.

Harriet Brent was not unhappy. In her heart, which seemed untenanted by warm emotions, there lived unquenched one divine spark of the true romance. Her faded eyes could soften in wistful reverie.

The Harriet Brent of those many, many years gone by had been a sensitive, slender girl of a certain flower-like, fleeting beauty. Delicate, they had called her. A shy girl, moving in misty day-dreams which she had been reluctant to reveal.

Eighteen she was when the lad had come from a larger town for a brief visit with cousins on a nearby farm. So brief—only a week. He had made love to her, with an ardor boyish and turbulent. Unashamed, she had returned his kisses.

Careless, splendid, debonaire, swearing he loved her forever and ever, he had passed on and forgotten her.

Harriet Brent did not forget him. Life is sometimes that way. The spirit of romance had once, only once, brushed her with its bright wings. Time healed the poignant sorrow. It came to be that she was glad to bear the scar. Even in these somber later years she could sit and thank God that she had known love and kisses and aching rapture.

One day this harsh-featured, unsmiling spinster went out to feed the hens. She had clapped on a battered, haymaker's straw hat. A shawl was thrown over her faded skirt-waist. The old skirt had been chopped off to make it easier to do the chores. The rubber boots were handy because there was mud in the hen yard. The empty pan in her hand, Harriet Brent stood staring at a very large and glittering automobile which had halted in front of the house. The chauffeur was studying a weather-beaten guide-board on a post. A handsome woman, ruddy, dignified, spoke to the gentleman beside her. He left the car and walked to the gate of Harriet Brent's dooryard. She came clumping from the barn path to meet him.

"Is this the road to Warechester, if you please?"

"Yes, take the first road to the right after you climb the hill beyond the watering-trough."

"Thank you, and may my man have a pail of water to fill his radiator? If you will be good enough to show him where the well is—"

"I'll fetch you a pail," grimly spoke Harriet Brent. She lingered a moment to survey this vigorous, genial stranger with the close-cropped, grizzled moustache, the keen eyes, the air of substantial importance. Time had not been cruel to him. Life had been gracious nor had it obliterated that dominating quality which had made him victorious in boyhood.

Yes, Harriet Brent knew him as soon as they stood face to face, but the expression of her worn features was unchanged. She went into the shed and returned with a pail. The man who had come out of the past seemed in no haste to rejoin his wife in the car nor did he hear her when she called to him. He was gazing at the shabby old house and at the apple orchard beyond. His demeanor was curiously abstracted. His eyes were grave but his smile had a boyish sweetness as he said:

"This fine old place has run down. Too bad. I remember it years ago. A family named Brent lived here then. Do you know what became of them?"

"Dead and gone," replied Harriet. "You can see the stones in the little burying ground at the edge of the orchard."

"Yes, it was a long time ago. There was a daughter, a very lovely girl. I met her one summer, when I was a boy. Married, I suppose, and a grandmother by now?"

"She has gone, too, so I've heard say," steadily answered Harriet in a low voice. Her hand pulled the edges of the shawl together and remained there to rest on her heart. "Yes, the girl you used to know has gone from here."

His wife spoke impatiently. He turned with a start. Presently the car rolled away from the house by the road. He glanced back, more than once. From behind the ancient lilac bush, Harriet Brent watched the car vanish. Then she clasped her hands and murmured, in prayer:

"Oh, thank God he didn't know me. But he remembered—and he loved to remember. He was loving the girl that has gone. I didn't expect anything could ever make me so happy."

She went into the house and kindled a blaze in the huge fireplace of the sitting-room. By its glow she sat with folded hands, while the red coals covered the dead ashes. Her face was no longer harsh and unlovely. The bright wings of romance had brushed

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

He was governor at one time of the state of Guadalajara. Mrs. Degollado, the last of the Maximilian retinue, was chief lady in waiting to Maximilian's consort, the Empress Carlotta, who was exiled when the Maximilian regime was overthrown, and who has been in France for many years, since she was forced to flee from her native country.

MAKING PROGRESS IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

For some time our Sunday School has been down in attendance. In fact since we had a re-organization our attendance has not been what it should be. I do not believe, however, that the re-organization is the cause of the attendance being low. Many things have entered in to hold our attendance down. The big thing has been sickness.

Last Sunday we were back above the 300 mark, and that is the very lowest number we can have and feel at all respectable, and we are hoping from here on we will stand above the 300 mark. If every member of the church were just as faithful to the Sunday School as YOU are how would our record stand?

In the recent Sunday School course there was great interest manifest. At least 50 of our people will finish the course, and that means a more intelligent group of teachers to teach the Bible. One of our teachers sat down and read the Book of Genesis through at one sitting and found great truths towering up in the book like mountain peaks. What a fine thing it would be if every teacher would do that not only for Genesis but for a number of other of the great books of the Bible.

We will be having more teacher training courses in the future. In the last meeting of the teachers and officers Miss Alice McGehee was elected as Superintendent of Teacher Training. Miss McGehee is one of our best teachers and has long recognized the need of teacher training and we believe under her direction that the work will be encouraged, and that we will be "Studying to show ourselves approved unto God."

In our last meeting we elected Mr. Charles McGehee as the director of our Teachers' and Officers Meeting. The regular meeting of the officers and teachers is one of the requirements of the A-1 Standard, and we expect Mr. McGehee to keep us constantly reminded of this point in our Standard, and with the enthusiasm and interest that he has in the Sunday School work we believe that he will bring us up on this point.

We have been wondering if it would not be a good idea to appoint some one to sponsor each point in the Standard of Excellence. That is, to make some individual responsible for each of the ten points, just as Miss McGehee now is responsible for Point No. 9, Teacher Training; and Chas. on Point No. 8, Teachers' Meetings; and so on until each of the ten points have some one to work definitely in their behalf.

Another step of progress seems to be indicated by the interest taken in the reports since we have started publishing the records. We are publishing now the enrollment, number present, offering and the grade of every class and department in the Sunday School. Last Sunday there was a "tie" for high place. The Beginners Department and the Intermediate Department both making 83.

MR. MASON AT ROCKDALE

Mr. Mason of Dallas, the Treasurer of our State Convention, attended the Worker's Meeting at Rockdale last Monday. Mr. Mason is a business man, but has conducted his business in such a way that a number of years ago the Denomination called for his service. He has served our Denomination in different places.

He brought one of the most inspiring messages last Monday that has ever been delivered to the Worker's Conference. What a blessing it would have been for the layman of our Church and County could they have heard this wonderful message. He is to be with us soon to speak in our Church. We will look forward with real joy to his coming.

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

Sunday School 9:45 a. m.
Preaching 11:00 a. m.
All B. Y. P. U's 6:15 p. m.
Preaching 7:15 p. m.
W. M. S. Monday 3:00 p. m.

All circles meet at the church for study in Royal Service.

There will be no Prayer Meeting because of the Methodist Revival.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Let us keep in mind the Sunday School Convention which meets at Waco April 13, 14, and 15. This is the first State Sunday School Convention. It will not likely ever meet closer to Cameron than Waco. We are anxious that every department of our Sunday School will be represented in that Convention. Start now making your plans to go.

ENLIGHTENMENT AND ENLISTMENT

We hear a great deal about enlistment in our church life, and indeed, it is a subject that we have not heard enough about. Enlightenment always precedes enlistment. In other words one must understand what he is doing and why he is doing it before the work can be done efficiently. A Baptist, if enlisted, must do at least the following:

1. Attend Sunday School regularly.
2. Attend Preaching Sunday morning and Sunday night regularly.
3. Attend Prayer Meeting Wednesday night regularly.
4. Read the Bible every day.
5. Read the Baptist Standard every week.
6. Contribute to the Church regularly every week.
7. Occasionally attend the Denominational Meetings.

If the points above are practiced regularly one may count himself enlisted in the Lord's work. But that much enlightenment is absolutely essential. It is painful to see the blind leading the blind.

FOR ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

—and Now TAX REDUCTION ALLOWED

Effective at once, the delivered price of all Chevrolet models is reduced. Chevrolet buyers will be given the benefit of the recent tax reduction though it does not become officially operative until March twenty-ninth. Thus for the third time since the first of this year Chevrolet emphasizes its supremacy in dollar-for-dollar value.

First---Reduced Prices

Early in January Chevrolet announced sweeping price reductions.

Then---The Improved Chevrolet

Shortly thereafter the Improved Chevrolet was announced at these reduced prices. Instantly it met with such an increase in popularity that it became necessary to break all previous production records for January and February.

And Now---A Further Saving

Although the reduction in automobile taxes does not become officially effective for some time, the full amount of this reduction is now passed on to Chevrolet buyers. Thus Chevrolet again emphasizes that principle of value on which it has built the greatest success ever attained by any manufacturer of modern gear-shift automobiles. Come in! See the Improved Chevrolet! One ride will be a revelation!

Buick Serves U. S. Navy at "Farthest Point South"

This road, which is the most southerly in the United States, can be reached only by railroad. It is located at Key West, Florida, 125 miles from the mainland.

The driving area for automobiles is only 16 square miles, yet G. W. Almons, former radio officer of the U. S. N. dirigible Shenandoah, finds ample use for his Buick every day. Almons was transferred to the United States Naval Communication Service Wireless Station at Key West the day the Shenandoah started on her last flight. The officer who took his place suffered serious injuries when the ship fell during a storm in Ohio. The sign in the picture shows that Almons is able to get Authorized Buick Service even out on the fringe of the country, with the Gulf of Mexico on all sides and a very small touring area, in which to drive his car. An automobile road to Key West, from Miami, is now under consideration. When completed, it will be virtually a bridge 125 miles long.

DAN MOODY ANNOUNCES FOR GOVERNOR TEXAS

YOUNG ATTORNEY GENERAL PLAYS FERGUSON IN OPENING STATEMENT

Austin, Texas, March 6.—Attorney General Dan Moody formally announced his candidacy for Governor at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon after two days spent in North Texas. The keynote of his announcement is honesty in government and economy in the affairs of the state.

Mr. Moody said that he had not selected a campaign manager nor had he agreed upon the time and place for opening his campaign. He probably is the youngest man who ever offered for Governor in Texas, being but 33 years old. He made a reputation two years ago when he led the ticket in his race for Attorney General, his first offering for a state office.

Saturday's announcement came after the rally in Georgetown Tuesday, followed by one in Fort Worth and another in Houston. At these places the attorney general was lauded by many speakers and urged to become a candidate for Governor. Likewise he was commended by Williamson County, his home, as the "Moses to lead the people of Texas out of the political wilderness" and as worthy of the confidence and support of the people of Texas.

An important assertion is that there is no issue between Lynch Davidson and Mrs. Ferguson in the highway matter.

Moody's Announcement

His announcement, somewhat deleted, follows:

"An unparalleled political condition confronts the people of Texas; a condition which challenges every patriotic man and woman.

"For more than a year one man, a private citizen, has occupied a position of greater power and influence than any other public official and that man has been, and now is, free from the restraints and responsibilities which the law places on public officials. As a result of this situation we have had and now have government without responsibility to either the people or the law, and the exercise of official authority by proxy."

Mr. Moody made specifications in part as follows

"This private citizen, who is the husband of the governor, has admitted that he was the salaried employee of a railroad corporation while he was acting as chief adviser and making decisions for the Governor.

"He has operated a newspaper carrying expensive advertisements of contractors who were either holding or seeking road contracts under a highway commission appointed by the governor under the guidance and influence of her husband.

"He has sat with the Highway Commission—he has had a member of the Textbook Commission connected with the paper of which he is head

As To Textbooks

"He has brought about the appointment of himself as clerk of the free Textbook Commission and has taken an active and dominant part in the letting of a large textbook contract to the highest bidder, under which the books will cost the State more in lots of 10,000 than any citizen can buy them prepaid in lots of 100.

"In the face of such a condition he attempts to continue himself in this unusual position by having his wife offer as a candidate for Governor on the fanciful idea that the people of Texas should, and want to vindicate him from the charges upon which he was impeached. It is time to forget individuals and look to the interests of Texas, her good name and the welfare of her people.

"In the discharge of my duties as Attorney General, facts have been uncovered and brought to light in the administration of the road funds by the State Highway Commission, showing waste of public money. The facts showing this misuse of the public's money and abuse of public confidence are familiar to the people of Texas, and need not to be recounted here.

"The Governor, guided, controlled and influenced by her husband, appointed the commission responsible for this waste and dissipation of the taxpayer's funds. Not only that, but they employed counsel to defend contracts, under which the state paid about five times the actual cost of the work, and which were held to be unreasonable and unconscionable by the court.

Defines the Issue

"The candidate, guided and controlled by this influence, offers for re-election with the promise to be guided in the future by the same influences that have directed her administration in the past. The people of this state are thus put upon notice that if the present administration is re-elected, the same condition and waste of public funds will continue. That the people of this state will continue to tolerate such a condition is unthinkable.

"No other candidate has offered for Governor who seems to realize the gravity of the situation now confronting the people of Texas. In fact, the only other candidate who has spoken on the question, accepts the explanation of these contracts given by the mouthpiece of the present Governor, and adopts the figures of the resigned chairman of the Highway Commission and says that my effort to compel road contractors who had taken from the public funds unconscionable and excessive profits, to return such profits, was a mistake. Therefore there can be no issue between that candidate and the present administration on this question. The issue is of first importance in a free government and this candidate in precampaign speeches attempts to minimize it and says he knows one which overshadows it.

Need New Administration

"A thorough expose of conditions and a complete administration of justice in this manner and the proper protection of the state can not be accomplished without the full and courageous co-operation of a Governor who is willing to go the whole way for the people of Texas, regardless of the results to personal political fortunes. It is apparent, therefore, that if the good name of Texas is to be redeemed it can not be accomplished by the election of either of those who now seek this office and it is equally apparent that the welfare of the state calls for some other candidate to enter the field.

"Under the deplorable conditions existing and confronting our people and in the interests of an honest and efficient government and in obedience to a sense of public duty, I offer myself as a candidate for Governor and proclaim the paramount and vital issue to be honesty in office and economy in the administration of every department of our government. The people of this state are bearing the burden of extremely heavy taxes. It could not be otherwise under prices paid by the state.

"Not one dollar more than is absolutely necessary to administer the affairs of the government honestly and efficiently should be taken from the people. I believe that in the honest and economical administration of the government sufficient money is now being collected to more than meet the needs of the government that there should be no increase in taxes.

His Platform

"If honored with your confidence as chief executive of this state, I pledge my record in the past to carry out the following policies

"1. To thoroughly expose and use every power of the office to bring to justice those responsible for the inroads which have been made into the public treasury through the letting of excessive and unconscionable contracts.

"2. To see that the principle of honesty is recognized in every branch and dealing of the government.

"3. To appoint clean, high-class, honest and capable men and women to every public office under the administration.

"4. To see that the people of this state get a dollar's value for every dollar that is expended by every department of the state government, and to attempt to uncover every leak through which public funds are now dissipated. Adequate laws should be passed to protect the public funds from dissipation and punish those responsible.

"5. To see that the law of this state is justly and fairly enforced.

"6. That I will not cripple the efforts of the law-enforcing officers by wholesale pardons—considering applications for pardons only upon their merits. I believe in the reasonable exercise of the pardoning power, but I am opposed to the wholesale granting of pardons and regard such practice a menace to the enforcement of the law and to society generally and a thrust at the system of administering justice.

Maintain Roads

"7. To see that the public roads of Texas are maintained to the highest state of efficiency, and that contracts for their maintenance shall not be awarded because of political favoritism. I favor a connected system of state highways, but I also want to see good roads extended out to the farms that are now on mud roads, but are taxed to build our good roads, and produce the things that feed and clothe the world.

"8. The maintenance of our free public school system and rural schools to the highest state of efficiency. I favor corrections in the free textbook law. I am opposed to the unnecessary and frequent change of textbooks and the burning of old books. This results in tremendous cost to the people. This money should be saved and restored to the school fund to help educate Texas boys and girls instead of being paid out to foreign textbook publishers.

"9. The support and maintenance of our highest institutions of learning that Texas may rightfully take her place as one of the leading states along educational lines—believing that the greatest safeguard of free government is liberal and free education that opens the door of limitless opportunity to every boy and girl.

"10. That the government will not be run by a corrupt political machine and that merchandise will not be made of official power, believing that such is contrary to the genius of free government, and that the government should be run for the benefit of all the people, and that all men and women, friend and foe alike, should stand equal before the law and have an equal opportunity under a government administered according to law.

"11. To support needed reforms in our election laws and to place our penitentiary system on a business basis and to eliminate waste, extravagance and graft.

"12. To support judicial reform, affecting both civil and criminal cases, that will more nearly insure speedy and exact justice to both rich and poor.

Honesty In Office

"I shall later elaborate my views upon the various issues which the people consider of controlling importance in this campaign. I assert now, however, that the principle, controlling and vital issue shall be honesty in office and economy in the administration of our government, and that all other issues will be secondary to this one, for the reason that these principles are essential and necessary to the existence of free government, and if those chosen to administer it are dishonest, corrupt, are actuated through political favoritism, which will necessarily result in distrust on the part of the people, the foundation stones of free government are being undermined.

"Upon this issue I call to battle every citizen of Texas who believes in an honest, clean and economical administration of the affairs of the government, and I shall carry this issue to all points of Texas. In disregard to personal welfare, financial condition and political fortunes, I will continue to oppose and denounce any public servant who believes in taking the people's money without giving them in return faithful, honest, efficient and valuable service. And I shall not hesitate to denounce the conditions that obtain to the government in this state as contrary to the best interests of this country and the welfare of its people."

MOODY CAMPAIGN ALSO GETS UNDER WAY AS FRIENDS CONFER

Friends of Governor Ferguson in Milam County have organized for the coming campaign, it is said by local leaders of the Ferguson forces.

With the announcement from Dan Moody that he will seek the office of governor, it became known Sunday that friends interested in the political fortunes of the young attorney general, have discussed organization. It is plain that with Mrs. Ferguson and Dan Moody in the race that the contest in Milam County will be between these two.

Ferguson has never failed to carry Milam County except in the campaign following his impeachment and when he was a candidate on the American party ticket. The Fergusons regarded always as favorites for the political track in Milam County three times were returned victors when Milam voters went to the polls in 1924. Jim Ferguson in a speech delivered to 8000 people on the court house lawn early in the campaign in his plea for vindication was said to have taken the county from T. W. Davidson who had the strong backing of influential political leaders in the county.

The people have always been strong for Jim Ferguson in Milam County and in the last campaign his strength, augmented by the sharp division over the klan question was increased.

The youthful attorney was a favorite with the electorate in 1924, has many influential friends and will carry a strong following. Lynch Davidson in 1924 secured some 500 votes in Milam County without any formidable campaign organization. Mr. Moody will get the support of the element that bitterly opposed Ferguson in 1924 and is conceded liberal support among the Butte and Robertson supporters. Local political observers believe the campaign will bring a test of strength between Ferguson and Moody.

FARM CONDITIONS ARE IDEAL IN MILAM COUNTY

BUSINESS MEN BELIEVE MORE FEED SHOULD BE RAISED BY FARMERS

Farm conditions in Milam County are said to be ideal following the two inch rain that fell over the county Friday and Saturday bringing to the soil much needed surface moisture.

Planting is going forward rapidly and within a few days all crops to be planted at this season will be in the ground.

Through the efforts of the Commercial club more than a 150 farmers have signed up for the "more cotton on fewer acres" contest and more are being signed each day. The year 1926 is looked forward to as a banner year.

On account of the drouth period little or no feed stuff was raised in the county and more than a thousand cars were said to have been shipped in by the banks and grain dealers for the farmers. The tendency in strictly cotton belts for the farmers to pay no attention to feed crops has become alarming, business men say. They point out that a farmer, although he may raise a big cotton crop, if he has to buy his feed, he cannot prosper or become a successful farmer.

One of the surprising features of Texas farming is the lack of tractor equipment for the farms. It is pointed out that if the farms in the drouth area had been equipped with power machinery and not dependent on horse power the necessity for feed shipments would have caused little or no concern to farmers and would have left in the banks millions of dollars sent out to the grain belts by cotton farmers who still plow horses and mules.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

Bad Backs Bring Suffering to Many Cameron Folks

Is that dull constant backache making you old and miserable? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going? Do you suffer headaches, dizzy spells and urinary disorders; feel weak, tired and worn-out? Then look to your kidneys.

Help Kidneys By Drinking More Water

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. It means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Delay may mean serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's are recommended by Cameron folks.

Mrs. A. E. Brady, 416 East 13th St., Cameron, says: "My back ached and when I bent over, sharp twinges darted across my kidneys and made it almost impossible to straighten. Mornings, I had deep seated lameness in my back and it was hard to stir around. Dizziness was another annoyance and my kidneys were disordered and acted too freely. Doan's Pills soon remedied matters. One box rid me of kidney complaint."

TAX CUT REDUCES PRICE OF CHEVROLET

CAMERON CHEVROLET CO. RECEIVES NOTICE OF ANOTHER CUT IN PRICES

Joe Middleton, manager of the Cameron Chevrolet Company, has received notification from O. E. Johnson, factory representative for the Chevrolet Motor Company, that the tax reduction on Chevrolet cars, although not officially effective, is to be deducted from cars effective March 4.

The reduction of this tax imposed by the government does not become officially effective until March 28 but the Chevrolet Motor Company is absorbing this cost and passing the saving along to the purchasers of cars.

The savings are worthwhile. They follow a recent phenomenal cut. Advertisements in this issue of the Herald tell of this advantage.

The following telegram has been received:

Have just received the following wire from our Dallas office with reference to the new prices because of tax reduction:

"Not waiving any rights under government regulations Chevrolet motor company will absorb the two percent tax reduction on all cars delivered retail from March fourth to March twenty-eighth midnight inclusive. Present factory billing will apply and credit granted on affidavit affirming retail deliveries for the period. Following below new delivery and handling charges showing tax reduction of two percent in accordance with which credit will be granted by Chevrolet motor company on retail deliveries from March fourth to midnight March twenty-eighth inclusive.

Lawrence, Mass. This is one time that a poor memory proved costly. Daniel Rosignoe took a vacation, starting with $14,000. Somewhere on his route, he deposited $13,000 in a bank and then lost the bank book. Now he can't remember in which bank of which town he left his money.

Haverhill, Mass. Thieves entered the home of M. H. Esperien, and in addition to other things took several phonograph records. Later they brought them back. They were in a foreign tongue.

Chicago, Ill. Radio even has its bad features, Harry Geise sang over a station here and his former wife heard his voice. She had him arrested for failing to pay alimony. Until she heard him, she did not know where he was.

Durham, N. C. Shocked and displeased over the marriage of her daughter, who was seventy-five years old Mrs. Mary White, 102, died. After the funeral, the bride and groom proceeded on their honeymoon.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Hints For Helping

Sometimes quilts get old and worn and still you hate to throw them away. Fold them up into any size you desire and then sew. Cover with cretine and you will have a nice couch pillow. If you want them softer, put some cotton batting around them before putting on the cover.

If some of your china or glassware has been broken, make a paste out of powdered chalk and the white of an egg. You will find, after letting it stand for three or four days, that the glass cannot be broken again at the same place.

Receipts

Bulgarian Soup

Four large onions are peeled and chopped. Then a half cup of chicken fat is melted and the onions are placed in it. A slight amount of flour is stirred in and three cups of hot water and three of milk are added. After simmering 20 minutes, pepper, salt and a pinch of sugar are added. The soup is poured on toast on which the beaten yolks of two eggs with half a cup of American cheese have been placed. The tureen is closed for a few minutes before the soup is served.

Salmon Loaf

Take three cups of stale bread crumbs, a cup of salmon, a pint of hot milk, a little salt and pepper and paprika, and two eggs. After the milk has been added to the crumbs and allowed to stand for several minutes, the salmon which has been shredded, eggs which have been beaten, and the other ingredients are added. The loaf should be baked for about an hour in a slow oven.

Style Note

Invitations to help sell the tags have been sent to a number of boys and girls and as incentives as well as rewards for their efforts local merchants and theatre management are offering prizes for those securing the largest amounts for their tags.

The first prize will be an exquisite vanity given by R. H. Johnson, jeweler, the second, a fountain pen given by the Jackson Pharmacy, third, a box of chocolates given by the Palace of Sweets.

YOUNG MEN, Read This

Sir Thomas Lipman once said:

"A young man may have many friends, but he will find none so steadfast, so constant, so ready to respond to his wants, so capable of pushing him ahead, as a little covered book with the name of a bank on its cover. If it were possible to inject the quality of saving into every boy, we would have a great many more real men."

We invite the young men of this community to identify themselves early with this strong, growing institution.

BIG STATE WIDE KLAN RALLY TEMPLE APRIL 21

GRAND DRAGON TELLS STAND OF SECRET ORDER ON PROHIBITION

(Dallas News)

In a letter directed to the News M. A. Childers, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Texas, tells of a San Jacinto Day celebration to be given in Temple on April 21, when law enforcement and prohibition will be featured. His letter and a press notice inclosed therewith are as follows:

"The Klan of Texas is preparing to stage a colossal patriotic and prohibition rally and parade at Temple on Wednesday, April 21 (San Jacinto Day). The program will consist of a patriotic demonstration, a rally for a fight to the finish against the organized movement for light wines and beer and other modification of the Volstead act and other prohibition laws, a ball game for diversion, a klan parade in protest of the disregard for the law, and address by the imperial wizard, Dr. H. W. Evans, and a public klan ceremony of naturalization.

"All the proceedings will be held at the Bell County Fair Grounds, which are now owned by Temple klan. Prominent speakers from all over Texas will take part in the programs, and citizens who believe in strict law enforcement and prohibition, without regard to their attitude toward the klan, are cordially invited to participate in the programs and witness the klan parade and ceremonies and other demonstrations. A small fee for entrance to the parade grounds will be charged to defray the expenses of the rally and demonstration.

"The facts herein stated are released for a news story in connection with the statement attached, if you desire to use them."

The following statement defining the attitude of the klan toward prohibition was sent with the letter to the News by Mr. Childers:

"If the imperial wizard of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan should make a pronouncement in favor of modifying the Volstead act he and the klan would be denounced by the prohibition organizations from one end of America to another, and rightly so. Yet, the public press today is filled with denunciations of prohibition, misrepresentations concerning its enforcement and organized appeals for modification, coming from every organization opposed to prohibition, and the forces that ought to be aroused in opposition to this organized campaign of the liquor interests apparently afflicted with a lethargy that is permitting to go unchallenged some of the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment to the constitution.

"The klan is not ashamed to declare its position in this or any other matter that concerns the welfare of the people. Disclaiming any authority to speak for any organization except itself that is supporting prohibition, but exercising its right to support all those ideals and principles that tend to promote the general welfare, it denounces as unpatriotic the libelous onslaught now being made on the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States and the power of the government to enforce the same, and declares its unalterable opposition to the modification of the Volstead act in any particular, save to make it stronger in regard to penalties to be imposed for utter disregard for the law of the land.

"Furthermore, the klan in Texas in its regular annual State-wide convention, has gone on record as favoring the repeal of the search and seizure bill and the evidence exclusion bill passed by the last legislature, which bills unfortunately operate in the interest of law enforcement.

"Condemn the klan if you want to, on some imaginary difference between its principles and those you espouse or on some false charge made against the infamous liquor organization with all its power, and if the prohibition forces would quite fighting among themselves and all unite in fighting a common enemy the cause of law enforcement would be much better served."

All events will be held as nearly on time as possible. People do not like a draggy track meet, help us make this one snappy by being ready on time and acquainting yourself with the rules beforehand. All officials will make the judges stand at the park their headquarters and get information there.

Winners will be announced after each event and points of leading teams will be announced from time to time from the judges stand.

One man asked another, "If you could give your children either an education or money, which would you choose for them?"

"Education," promptly answered the other man, "and a Business education, he can earn all the money he needs—and a position in life besides.

It matters not what line of work, or what profession one intends to follow, a business education is essential to success. Professional men often employ some one trained in business methods to look after their accounts, letter writing, etc., being too busy to attend to it themselves. But the professional man who does not know anything about business is at the mercy of his employees—and if they use slipshod methods he is the loser.

The business world today is crying for trained office help. An efficient business trained man or woman is as much in demand, if not more so, than lawyers, doctors, or any other professional man or woman, and the trained business executive has dozens of opportunities for advancement while the professional man has only one chance in ten to advance. The business expert is in the confidence of his employers and learns every angle of the business. Often there are openings for managers or heads of departments and the business expert is put in charge of some particular responsible job.

TYLER COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, Tyler, Texas, is the business training school of the South, and can give the young people of the nation training in any or every branch required for business efficiency, or several courses may be taken and completed in less than six months time and cost will not amount to more than two months salary of a really capable business man. Telephone's 50th Birthday Celebrated March 10th

MR. WATSON, COME HERE.
[I WANT YOU!]

March 10th, 1926, marks the fiftieth anniversary of an important event.

On March 10th, 1876, in a small garret workshop in Boston, Alexander Graham Bell uttered the first words ever transmitted over telephone wires. Using a small crude transmitter and a wire but a few yards in length, he said, "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you." His assistant, Thomas A. Watson, sitting at a receiver in another room, heard these words distinctly and hurried into the room to tell Bell that their tireless research had been rewarded.

Now the telephone is a national necessity, but at first it was considered a mere scientific toy and most people were inclined to scoff at it.

It remained for Dom Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, to place the first stamp of public approval upon the telephone in June of 1876. Bell had taken his crude little invention to the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia and had set up his exhibit in one of the booths. Late afternoon of the day when the judges were making a tour of inspection of the booths Dom Pedro entered the booth containing the telephone, just as the judges were about to pass it by with a glance of incredulity. Dom Pedro recognized Bell, whom he had previously met in Boston, and agreed to test the telephone.

As the incredulous judges looked on, their interest now aroused, Dom Pedro took his place at the receiver while Bell went to the transmitter. Suddenly Dom Pedro threw back his head, and with an amazed look on his face exclaimed, "My God, it talks!" The judges then took their turns at the receiver, testing it until late that night, and next day the telephone was moved to the place of honor in the judges' pavilion.

Once the practicability of the telephone had been demonstrated the demand for instruments and service increased rapidly. Theodore N. Vail was made general manager of the telephone company and he is the man who was largely responsible for the wide-spread efficient telephone system of today. Branches were opened in practically every state of the Union, and the formation of a real nation-wide telephone system was begun.

Many difficulties were encountered by the telephone pioneers. Improvements of the instruments, changes in the material used for wires, means of lengthening the range of long distance communication, construction of switchboards and central offices—all these problems had to be solved as they arose by the telephone engineers.

The two crude telephones of 1876 have grown into a nation-wide system of more than 16,000,000 telephones, approximately one for every seven people in the United States. This country, with but 6 per cent of the world's population, has 61 per cent of the world's telephones. Conversations are now possible from any part of the nation to any other part. The longest continuous circuit is from Catalina Island, off the coast of California, to Havana, Cuba, a distance of over 5,500 miles.

As a community develops, as its industries expand, the telephone company must be ready to take care of that expansion and development. Telephone engineers are constantly making surveys of business and social conditions of the country so that they may anticipate any demand for increased service.

The semi-centennial of the telephone is being celebrated this year all over the United States.

DAN CUPID SPEARS ATTORNEY GENERAL

PLAINS FLOWER PLUCKED BY DAN MOODY ON EVE OF CAMPAIGN

Austin, March 6.—The silken web of romance has enmeshed the prosaic wheels of politics. Dan Cupid smiles in victory with an illustrious namesake and ally.

Dan Moody, attorney general of Texas, has added to victories in politics, to renowned achievements in public office, the crowning triumph of a woman's heart and a bride-to-be.

Miss Mildred Paxton, of Abilene, is the girl who is to share the future shining promise with him.

Not Formally Announced

Without having yet been formally announced, it is known to friends of both Miss Paxton and Mr. Moody that their wedding is to be some time in the next few months. Possibly Easter; possibly not until June or early summer, but on some fair day soon. The wedding, because of the prominence of the persons, will be an event of concern, not only to the individuals and the two families, but to all Texas. For if the call of his friends are heeded, and if the ascending star of destiny shines on, Miss Paxton will be the first Texas White House bride for many years.

Miss Paxton is of a prominent Abilene family; a former student in the University of Texas, where her abilities her charm and social graces won her a host of friends; both among her university fellowstudents and the people of Austin, where she first met the red headed young Taylor lawyer who won her heart.

She has been society editor of the Abilene Daily Reporter. Miss Paxton has occasionally visited in Austin. One of her close friends and chums is Miss Crystal Ross of Lockhart.

Unbroken Triumphant Career

Moody's career has been one of triumph, with wedding bells to signal the special climax of a pretty romance.

In the youthful attorney general are blended the fine traditions of the Old South, with long pre-eminence in Williamson County through the Moody and Robertson families.

Dan Moody, soon after he graduated from the University of Texas academic and law department in 1912 and began the practice of law in Taylor, was elected Williamson County Attorney. Later he was appointed by governor Pat M. Neff as district attorney for Travis and Williamson counties, and afterward was elected for a full term to the same office.

In 1924 he ran for attorney general of the state, following a renowned victory in the prosecution of cases which received nation-wide prominence. He was the last of four candidates to enter the race. He lacked but a few thousand votes, nevertheless, of exceeding the total votes of all his opponents. In the second primary he received the largest vote ever given any candidate for any office. This vote was repeated in the general election.

Legal Victories Feature

Moody signalized the first year of his service as chief legal officer of the state by victories of dazzling brilliance, which gained him lasting fame outside his own state.

Recently his friends gave him a testimonial, by gathering, 5000 strong at the court house where he single-handed shattered the idea of invisible government in Texas, and unanimously petitioned him to become a candidate for governor of his state. Similar gatherings and similar petitions throughout the state voicing the demand which few believe any man could or would ignore.

His bride-to-be, a young woman of the finest social traditions, of brilliant mind, attractive, charming, was a leader of social life, keenly interested

Of Prominent Family

Miss Paxton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Paxton of Abilene. The family is one of the most prominent in Texas, and Mr. Paxton is a west Texas leader, the president of the Citizens National bank of the progressive and fast-growing Taylor county seat city.

The wedding is to take place in Abilene. As stated, the date is not yet known, except to the betrothed pair, if, indeed, it has been selected by them yet.

Rains Beneficial To Farmers of County

A slow rain which began falling here early Thursday morning continued through the major part of the day in all sections of the county and will be of great benefit to the farmers.

Dry north wind during the past two weeks has taken the surface moisture from the farm lands. The rain Thursday will restore the moisture and help the farmers.

To-day, 290,000 Bell System employees all over the United States are wearing the emblem pictured above in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the telephone. Over 6,500 men and women telephone employees are displaying this pin in Texas

HOW FAR CAN YOU SEE?

Unless you happen to be of the same height as the person standing next to you, the sky-line is a different distance away from each of you, for it is really just a question of distance the eye can see from different heights above the sea level. A person five feet tall standing on the beach at the sea side, is able to see about two and three-quarter miles away, while one a foot taller can see about a quarter of a mile further.

A person on a roof of a house a hundred feet high is able to see more than thirteen miles away, on a clear day, and a forty-two mile view may be enjoyed from the top of a mountain a thousand feet high. The aviator who goes up to a level a mile above the sea is able to see everything within a radius of ninety-six miles and the further up he goes the larger the earth's circles become to him.
